

Canadian Pain Society – Canadian Chronic Pain Network (CPS-CPN) joint meeting on Improving Design and Conduct of Clinical Trials in Chronic Pain

Saturday May 3, 2025

Location: Northrop Frye – NF-008, Victoria College, University of Toronto

Agenda

- Talk 1: Conducting clinical trials in interventional pain: challenges and opportunities.
- Talk 2: Identification of chronic postsurgical pain (CPSP) for clinical trials of pain prevention: ICD-11 definition, challenges, pitfalls, future improvements
- Talk 3: Leveraging CPN network for research in Canada
- Open discussion and interaction
- Action items and discussion on future activities

Chair: Harsha Shanthanna. Professor, Department of Anesthesia, McMaster University, Hamilton, ON

Associate Member, Departments of Surgery, Health Research Methods, Evidence, and Impact (HEI); Kinesiology and School of Biomedical Engineering

Speakers:

1. Harsha Shanthanna

2. Ian Gilron

Professor of Anesthesiology & Perioperative Medicine, Queen's University, Kingston, ON.

3. Norm Buckley

Professor Emeritus, Department of Anesthesia, McMaster University, Hamilton, ON

This is being jointly supported and sponsored by Canadian Pain Society and Chronic Pain Network.